EASTER OUTRAGES IN IRELAND MANY

None, However, Develop Into
Spectacular Efforts of Force Against Government

TAX OFFICES BURNED

Attacks on Police Barracks and Federal Offices are Reported
Generally

Dublin, April 5. — Easter demonstrations in Ireland did not develop into a spectacular effort of force against the government, which the adherents of the Republican cause considered would be suicidal, but there was a series of outrages in many parts of the island. The malcontents took a new angle in their work when they attacked 15 tax offices in many cities and towns, destroying the records in various ways, but mostly by fire.

The attacks against police barracks and police huts numbered 35. In most of the cases, the police had left the barracks to go to concentration points in the large cities. Where only women and children were left in the barracks or huts, the raiders gave warning of their intentions; hence there were no casualties.

At Dublin castle tonight it was stated that the destruction of the tax records would avail nothing; all citizens, whose records have been destroyed, will be reassessed and their taxes are likely to be increased by the need of funds to replace the barracks and huts destroyed.

Attacks on the police barracks and government offices are reported from Limerick, both town and county, and also from several places in County Clare. No casualties are as yet reported, except for the wounding of two soldiers by John Mitchell, whom they arrested at Glendale, Leitrim county. Mitchell fired repeatedly before surrendering.

The Sinn Fein flag has been flying all day long from the mast head of the derrick on the admiralty pier at Queenstown. It was hoisted during the night and the pole was well greased to prevent it from being hauled down.

Belfast Felt No Fear

Belfast, Ireland, April 4. — There was no expectation of serious trouble here and the troops were not even ordered to barracks Saturday night, but the authorities were alert for possible outrages, especially when it was rumored that the various telegraph wires had been cut and that telephonic communications with Newry, Dundalk, Dublin and the south generally had suddenly ceased. Later it was found that raids on the police barracks had occurred at Clough, Rostrevor, Lough and other places.

In Belfast Sinn Feiners made several attempts to burn government property. Several buildings were set afire but without serious results. These included the Grand Central hotel which is the headquarters of the pension department of the ministry of labor. Several buildings where income tax offices are located were set on fire. All the raiders got safely away in the crowds.

The fire brigade was kept busy the whole night, but so far as is known, no serious damage was caused. When the wires were restored, it was found that attempts had been made to burn the revenue offices in Dundalk.

Early Sunday morning several Sinn Feiners forced an entrance into the Newry customs houses. They covered the caretaker and his wife with revolvers while they ransacked the place for documents which they burned. Thirty described men attacked the barracks at Loughbrickland, which they completely wrecked with high explosives. An adjacent dwelling and a manse opposite were likewise badly damaged.

ORGANIZE AIR MILITIA FOR CANADA'S DEFENSE

Personnel Will Be Drawn from Former Members of the Royal Air Force

Ottawa, Ont., April 4. — A Canadian air force is to be formed immediately.

The personnel will be drawn from volunteers from the ranks of former officers and airmen of the Royal Air Force, resident in Canada. These will train at centers which will be in operation the year round and officers and airmen enlisted in the new force will spend at least one month out of every 14 in active training, receiving pay and travelling expenses during their active period.

The force will probably be limited to the beginning to about 5,000 men, drawn from all ranks, and the training centers will not number more than one or two to begin with for the whole country.

RESUME FIGHT TODAY TO DECLARE WAR OFF

Resubmission of Treaty to Senate
May Result from Present
Agitation

Washington, April 4. — The fight in congress over formal termination of the war will be renewed this week. With the failure of the senate to ratify the peace treaty, the house will vote on a resolution, put forward by Republicans, declaring the war ended. There were indications today, however, that this might result in further developments in connection with the treaty, possibly its resubmission to the senate by the President as the administration's counter move.

The peace resolution is to be brought before the house Thursday with a rule calling for a vote Friday. Republicans believe its adoption is assured, while Democrats declare it certainly will be vetoed by President Wilson without prospects of obtaining a two-thirds vote to override the veto.

In many well informed quarters the impression is growing that even before or more probably along with a veto message the President might return the treaty to the senate with affirmative expression regarding reservations. Indeed, it would not surprise administration spokesmen in touch with the situation should the President return the treaty within a few days.

Although Democrats plan a vigorous fight on the resolution, they are virtually without hope of preventing its adoption in both house and senate. This was indicated by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, administration leader, who returned today from a vacation in the south. Senator Hitchcock also differs from the views expressed by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, regarding the length of the senate contest over the house resolution.

"I believe there will be prolonged discussion," said Senator Hitchcock. "There are many new and most important issues presented in the proposal."

Senator Hitchcock declined to confirm or discuss reports that the President was considering return of the treaty to the senate shortly, but indicated that he had been in correspondence with the President during his absence from Washington.

EDUCATIONAL PLANK SOUGHT IN PETITION

New York and Illinois Teachers
Urge Its Incorporation in Republican Platform

New York, April 4. — A petition urging the adoption of an educational plank in the national platform of the Republican party was presented today to Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National committee, by Judson F. Wright, president of the New York State Teachers' association, William T. McCoy, chairman of the Illinois schools committee, and Olive M. Jones, president of the New York Principals' association.

"Teachers are not attempting to dictate," Mrs. McCoy said, "but with the likelihood of woman suffrage becoming a law, thus giving the vote to 50 per cent of the 700,000 teachers in America, they feel that the most important service they can give will be to see that their support goes to the party that most definitely pledges itself to remove educational limitations from the children of the country. Teachers have never been in politics, but they are alive to the situation as never before and are going to be at the polls next November with this situation uppermost in their minds."

"This delegation represents the 32,000 teachers of Illinois and the 53,000 teachers of New York," the petitioners declared and added "we may in a way claim to represent the educational forces of the nation."

POLICE GUARD RAILROAD YARDS

All But Two Lines Entering Chicago
Are Affected by Switchmen's Strike

Chicago, April 4. — Police details tonight were guarding railroad yards in the Chicago switching district at the request of railroads affected by the strike of switchmen called by the Chicago Yardmen's association.

All railroads entering Chicago with the exception of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the New York Central were said by union officers to be affected by the strike, and efforts were being made to induce switchmen on those roads to join the walkout.

The strike starting when 700 switchmen employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad walked out, demanding an increase in pay from 69 and 65 cents and hour to 95 and $1, spread yesterday to the Chicago Junction railroad which serves the stock yards, and the Milwaukee Central, Chicago and Northwestern railroads.

NEW LEGION SERVICE DIRECTOR

Indianapolis, Ind., April 4. — Gerald J. Murphy of Rutland, Vt., has been appointed director of the service division of the American Legion. It was announced today by Franklin D. O'Brien, national commander. Mr. Murphy will maintain his office at National headquarters in Indianapolis.

FORECAST REPEAL OF DAYLIGHT LAW

General Return to Standard Time
With Optional Provision,
Will be Sought

BEER ISSUE IN DOUBT

Prospects for Success of Colonel
Gillett's Bill are Not the Brightest

Albany, April 4. — The legislature, owing to the spring primaries on Tuesday, will work only half the coming week, but the working half will furnish the members with plenty of business.

The assembly, which last week was the focal point of the nation's interest on account of its action in unseating the five suspended Socialist members charged with disloyalty, will continue to attract the attention of the people of the state this week. The principal business to come before the lower house will include a third attempt to repeal the state's daylight saving law, introduction and possible passage of the anti-sedition bills which will be introduced as a sequel to the expulsion of the Socialists, and a decision on the much disputed question of legalizing the manufacture and sale of beer and light wines.

Repeal of the daylight saving law was forecast tonight. It is known that the Republican leaders and virtually all the upstate members will go behind the movement when it is again brought up for action on Wednesday. Last Tuesday the repeal failed of passage, by one vote, receiving only 75 votes while 76 constitutes the necessary majority. Backers of the repeal bill now declare that they are assured of 75 votes in support of the measure.

Predict Governor's Veto

The repeal bill which failed of passage last Tuesday is designed to provide for the general return to standard time, but contains a local option section that is intended to be applied to municipalities. The first repeal bill that met defeat contained no local option provision. The measure with the local option clause already has been passed in the Senate, and if it is successful in the assembly this week it will go to the governor for approval. It is generally understood, however, that Governor Smith will veto the bill. Whatever the action the executive may take, the upstate legislators can go back to their respective districts, which have demanded repeal of the daylight saving law, and say that the responsibility rests entirely with the governor as they have done their best to obey the mandates of their constituents.

Prospects for the success of Colonel Ransom H. Gillett's beer and wine bill are not so rosy as those of the daylight saving repeal. The Gillett bill, which has been assigned to the assembly excise committee, with no prospect of being reported out, has been amended so as to provide that only pure malt and hops shall be used in the manufacture of beer. The chief purpose of the amendment was to insure that the bill shall not go back to the excise committee but shall be referred to the rules committee, of which Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet is chairman, and which on Tuesday takes over consideration of all legislation not reported by the other committees. The speaker is determined that the beer and wine bill shall not pass. As the speaker almost invariably controls the rules committee, it is considered certain that the Gillett bill will not be reported out for consideration by the assembly.

To overcome this situation, or at least to get every member of the lower house on record on the question, Colonel Gillett plans to move on Wednesday for the discharge of the rules committee from further consideration of the bill. It is generally believed that there will not be enough votes behind the Gillett program to make it successful, although it is claimed by backers of the measure to legalize mildly alcoholic beverages, that they would have more than an even chance of passage if they were reported out voluntarily by the committee. It is pointed out that it is difficult to line up enough Republican members to override the decision of the speaker, who is in reality the party leader in the assembly and who has, in addition, the power to stifle legislation in which individual members are especially interested.

Expect Action on Lusk Bills

"Anti-sedition" is the name applied to the measures recommended by a majority of the judiciary committee of the assembly which are designed to purge the Socialist party of certain features which, in the opinion of the committee, are objectionable. The bills, which are now being drafted and are to be introduced during the week, will require that no party whose membership includes aliens or minors may have a position on the official ballot. The bills will be drawn with the intention of diverting control of the party from the comparatively small group of due-paying members to enrolled Socialists, of requiring that the Socialist constitution be amended by eliminating any clauses which conflict with federal and state constitutions such as the prohibition against Socialists elected to public office voting for military and naval appropriations and also by eliminating the practice of

Cold Wave Eastward Bound Reported by Weather Man

Washington, April 4. — An Easter snow storm, central today over western Pennsylvania was moving eastward tonight with indications of rain tonight, tomorrow in the Atlantic states and snow in the Great Lakes and Ohio valley regions. Freezing temperatures were reported as far south as Northern Arkansas and Texas.

The heaviest snow fall reported to the weather bureau here was approximately eight inches at Chicago. Rain and snow was prominent for much of the eastern territory extending to the Canadian border. The forecast indicated much colder tomorrow and Tuesday in the Ohio valley, middle Atlantic, and east gulf states.

exacting pledges from Socialist candidates which might have the effect of interfering with complete freedom of action.

In the senate action is expected on the bills recommended by the Lusk joint legislative committee which has been investigating radical activities. These measures are intended to require that private educational institutions, such as the Rand school of Social Science, shall be licensed by the board of regents which would be empowered to decide whether the school was being operated for the public good; to provide for the extension of educational facilities to native and foreign born persons over sixteen years of age; and to authorize the creation in the office of the attorney general of a bureau having for its particular function the investigation and prosecution of alleged violations of the law against criminal anarchy. These measures were introduced last week and are now on the order of final passage in the upper house.

There remains a possibility that Senator George F. Thompson of Niagara, introducer of the Anti-Saloon league's prohibition enforcement bill, may move this week, to discharge the judiciary committee from further consideration of the measure. Those in close touch with the situation say the attempt, if made, will meet with failure.

The general impression of all political observers is that no liquor legislation will be enacted at the regular session, and that the plans both of the advocates of strict enforcement and those who favor "liberal" liquor laws are foredoomed to defeat.

EASTER PARADES OUT DESPITE WINTER CHILL

More Men Vies With Gorgeous
Gowned Women for
Sartorial Honors

New York, April 4. — Cold, drizzling rain and skies that threatened snow failed today to prevent New York's annual Easter parade in Fifth avenue. Gorgeous bonnets and wonderful creations, examples of the French and American modistes' art, were seen bravely defying the onslaught of the elements. The ranks of the parade were a bit thin, but the dauntless ones, in costumes more suited for Palm Beach than Fifth avenue in the early and uncertain days of spring, stepped forth to admire and be admired.

Probably never before has mere man loomed so large as a contender for sartorial honors. Not only were the young men resplendent, they were "showy." According to quotations by New York clothiers, the very latest styles in business suits come to $100, while evening clothes cost at least $200.

The women for the most part wore heavy fur neck pieces with their spring suits, and almost all carried gaily colored umbrellas and parasols. Hundreds motored to church, instead of risking costly silks and satins in the rain.

Umbrellas Needed at Atlantic City

Atlantic City, N. J., April 4. — Atlantic City's annual Easter style pageant was converted into an umbrella parade today. Rain fell in torrents throughout the morning and few persons ventured out. At noon the downpour had subsided to a drizzle and thousands of promenaders appeared on the wooden way. All carried umbrellas. The atmosphere remained damp and foggy throughout the afternoon.

In spite of the rain, all incoming trains this morning were filled, especially those from New York and Philadelphia.

PENSION SING SING KEEPER

Ossining, April 4. — Old employees of Sing Sing prison were informed tonight by Warden Lawes that an appropriation of $25,000 had been provided for the purpose of pensioning them off. Some of the old keepers have been employed at the prison for more than 25 years and would have retired long ago except for the fact that there was no money to pay them pensions—half their present salary.

ANNE MARTIN AGAIN CANDIDATE

Washington, April 4. — Anne Martin, defeated two years ago for the United States senate in Nevada, announced from her headquarters here today that she would make the race again this year for the Republican nomination. Miss Martin said she would accept the nomination if offered her on her platform which included opposition to the peace treaty and the league of nations.

ROUT RADICALS FROM DUISBURG

Duisburg, Rheland-Prussia, April 3. — (By courier to Dusseldorf.) Reichwehr troops marched into the Duisburg region today and cleared up the radical element of the Red army in pitched battles in the streets. Machine guns and rifle bullets swept the business district like a driving rain, artillery threw solid shots and shrapnel and hand grenades were tossed. There was house to house fighting in some quarters. Four citizens were killed and a number were injured.

A child was killed on the Belgian side of the Rhine and a Belgian soldier was shot in the hand. The Reichwehr and Red casualties, it is officially announced, were light.

The Reichwehr came to Duisburg in two contingents, the 52nd regiment marching south from Wessel through Hambrich and Dinstaken into Ruhrort and the remainder under General Kabisch, flanking in east of Duisburg. The contingents arrived simultaneously at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Reds Fight in Small Groups

A detachment of police undertook to search houses for resisting Reds, while the government artillery took up a position north of the old gates of Duisburg, from which spot it placed shots where the Reds were grouped, principally in the high school grounds.

The first shot between the Kabisch forces and the Reds was fired in Kaiserberg, on the eastern edge of the city. Fighting soon followed in the downtown streets of Duisburg the Reichwehr advancing from corner to corner, driving the Reds before them. The Reds fought in small groups, sometimes only three or four manning a machine gun, supplementing its fire with rifles.

The heaviest fighting was in Sonnenwall street. The Reichwehr entered the street at the north end from an open space with heavy machine guns. The Reds, with their machine guns, stood at a range of 50 yards.

The sweeping fire of both sides shattered half the store windows. The gutters were piled high with glass so pulverized that it represented piles of drifted shaved ice when the storekeepers later in the evening swept the sidewalks to the accompaniment of machine gun fire in the southern and eastern outskirts.

Remnants of the melting Reds gathered around Bismark monument, fled when the troops charged. Barricades erected in Kasmierfelder street, where many aliens reside, were cleared out by shrapnel.

Reds Guard Dusseldorf

Dusseldorf, April 4. — Dusseldorf was quiet today. It is surrounded by moderate Red outposts on all the roads leading into the city, who are under orders to receive, disarm and conduct to the barracks all returning Reds.

The executive committee in charge announces that it is prepared to prevent the city becoming the scene of resistance to the peace terms. Should the Reichwehr come to Dusseldorf, however, the workmen are in favor of calling a general strike in protest.

Still Fighting in Ruhr District

Berlin, April 4. — News received late on Saturday from the Ruhr district indicates that fighting is continuing in many places. Bands of plunderers are confiscating food and other property. The government considers the situation grave.

Dublin, Ireland, April 4. — Masses of important correspondence and documents were burned in a series of fires which kept the fire fighters rushing from 9 o'clock last night until after midnight. The circumstances indicate a well planned incendiary plot. Fires occurred in the offices of at least eight income tax collectors and surveyors in different parts of the city.

The incendiaries did their work well and the fires were well advanced before the fire brigade arrived. Just before the outbreaks, the caretakers of the burned buildings were held up by armed men.

A man believed to be Private Lawrence McKenzie of Belfast was found shot through the head early this morning in Howth, southeast of this city. It is thought the wound will prove fatal.

Belfast, Ireland, April 5. — Wire communications with the north and south and with Scotland were severed Saturday night.

Unknown persons entered the customs house and the Grand Central hotel, which is now occupied by the government offices, and burned official documents.

Cork, Ireland, April 4. — Two fires, believed to be the work of incendiaries, occurred in Cork last night. The flames broke out simultaneously in the inland revenue and pension offices, situated half a mile apart.

The water supply, which was insufficient at first, was soon increased, but too late to prevent the destruction of both buildings. The firemen this

ROCKEFELLER AT HEAD OF INTERCHURCH TOUR

Twenty Prominent New Yorkers
Devote Two Weeks in Support of Movement

New York, April 4. — John D. Rockefeller Jr., at the head of a party of more than 20 public officials, representative business men and religious leaders, left here today for a two weeks' tour of the principal cities of the country to present the program of the Inter-Church World movement.

The tour, arranged as a result of Mr. Rockefeller's offer to give all his time for two weeks, is preliminary to the simultaneous financial campaign of the week of April 25, when the 50 denominations which are co-operating through the interchurch movement, will seek subscriptions of $336,777,572 from the Protestant population of the United States.

Governor Carl E. Mullan of Maine was in the party, and Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas has promised to join the headquarters when they reach the middle west. Dr. John R. Mott, chairman of the executive committee of the Interchurch World movement, accompanied the party to Baltimore and Washington, both of which cities were on today's itinerary.

From Washington the Rockefeller group will go to Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Boston and Philadelphia, returning to New York for a mass meeting Sunday, April 18.

"The Interchurch World movement consists of the churches," said Mr. Rockefeller today. "It is governed and controlled by them. Its object is to enable the Protestant churches of the United States to contribute their due share toward the evangelization of the world. Every denomination that joins the movement retains absolute autonomy and exercises absolute control over its denominational policy."

"Since all will appeal mainly to their own church membership, how are they to reach, except through some agency of co-operation like the Interchurch World movement, the 25,000,000 adherents of Protestantism who are not attached by membership to any church? Through the interchurch they will receive not only their denominational contributions, but will share pro rata in the undesignated gifts."

ACTORS UNIONS MOVE TO END LONG STRIKE

First Steps Are Taken by Equity
Members at Their Quarterly Meeting

New York, April 4. — First steps toward patching up the differences existing between the Actors' Equity association and the Actors' Fidelity league were taken here today at the quarterly meeting of the Equity. With only one dissenting vote, members of the Equity adopted a resolution providing for admission of Fidelity members into the association.

The strife between the two organizations was heightened during the actors' strike, which lasted from August 7 to September 6, 1919. The action of the Equity is the first move toward reconciliation. Membership of the Equity is estimated at about 2,000, while approximately 700 actors or actresses are members of the Fidelity. Expression on the part of many Fidelity members of a desire to join an organization affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, as is the Equity, is said to have resulted in the decision of the Equity members.

ANDERSON URGES INQUIRY

Protests Against Further Postponement
of Anti-Saloon League
Investigation

New York, April 4. — William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of New York, in a letter to Republican members of the state assembly made public today, protests against postponement of the proposed investigation of the league and its superintendent by the judiciary committee until the session is adjourned.

"If this is intended as a club to keep us quiet during the campaign," Anderson stated in his letter, "it will fail as completely as the efforts to silence us during the sessions have failed. If we are guilty of the charges made against us we ought to be put out of business at once. If not, the assembly ought to be honest enough to exonerate us."

PROTEST OUSTING FIVE SOCIALISTS

Amnesty for "Political Prisoners"
Also is Sought by Social Democratic League

CITE "REAL" MENACE

"White Reactionaries" Not the
"Red Bolshevik" Present Day
Danger They Declare

New York, April 4. — A protest against the expulsion of Socialists from the New York legislature and an appeal for amnesty for certain classes of "political prisoners" was made tonight in a statement issued by the executive committee of the Social Democratic League of America. The chief dangers to the country at the present time, the statement says, comes "not from the red Bolshevik, but from the white reactionaries, who, under the cloak of patriotism and 100 per cent Americanism, are attempting to inaugurate a thoroughly un-American policy of repression." It added:

"Our American ideals of political democracy are confronted with two rival ideals, each of which may be called Bolshevism in that it involves a repudiation of the covenants on which our democracy is founded. This covenant is the tacit agreement, first, that the majority is to have freedom of action in carrying out its policy; second, that the minority is to have freedom of speech in voicing its criticism. The red Bolshevik attacked the first half of this covenant, and the white Bolshevik the second half."

"The expulsion of the Socialists at Albany," the statement adds, "will by no means injure the Socialist movement in this country, but it will put an indelible stain on the reputation of America for political honesty and fair play and it will dangerously undermine the confidence of American workers in the justice of American institutions."

Referring to "political prisoners" convicted under war legislation, the statement says: "Pending repeal of the laws under which they have been tried and convicted, we petition President Wilson and the executive officers of the states that are concerned to exercise to pardon and grant full amnesty to all who are now in prison for the opinions they honestly held and courageously expressed."

Declaring that the Social Democratic league was formed by Americans who approved of the war against Germany, the statement added:

"Now that the war has been won and the danger of German domination no longer exists, the league asks again for the support of all citizens who favor the cause of Socialism and who in a political democracy wish to work for its attainment exclusively by the methods of orderly and parliamentary action."

EASTER BLIZZARD HITS ILLINOIS AND INDIANA

Storm, With Accompanying Snow
Fall Is Moving Out St.
Lawrence Valley

Chicago, Ill., April 4. — Northern Illinois and portions of Indiana and Michigan today and tonight were in the grip of an Easter blizzard accompanied by gales and a heavy fall of snow.

The snow struck Chicago territory early this morning, between three and four inches of snow falling during the day, but was not expected by the weather bureau to continue through the night.

The temperature remained around 30 degrees above zero. Tonight the center of the storm, which moved northeast from Texas, was in Northeastern Indiana and was moving steadily eastward.

The Chicago office reported the storm would follow the St. Lawrence valley to the Atlantic coast with snowfall all through the lake region. Rain fell in the southern part of Illinois and gales of from 30 to 40 miles an hour blew during the day from the northeast and the north.

INTENSIVE PRISON PROGRAM

Labor Holds Important Place in Work
Mapped Out for Next Two Months

New York, April 4. — The national committee on prisons and prison labor, of which Adolph Lewisohn is president, today announced a new program of intensive work, mapped out for the next few months, which includes several reforms in prisons throughout the country. Prison labor is given a large place in the program. Scientific surveys of state prisons systems with specific recommendations for reorganization along modern lines will be taken up by the committee. Emphasis will be placed on the development of prison industries and wage for convicts.

BASEBALL TEAMS ORGANIZING.

Series of Games Between Wanderers and High School Arranged.

Oneonta followers of the national game will be glad to learn that indications now point to some snappy baseball games here this summer, for part of the season at least. The Wanderers, who during the past winter put on some fast basket-ball games and capped the climax March 27 by defeating the Binghamton inter-state league team in the fastest battle ever seen on a local court, have decided to reorganize into a baseball squad with T. A. Crouse as manager and Ernest Damaskie coach. If they play ball as good as they did basket-ball, Oneontans are in for some "real" games this summer.

Manager Crouse has made tentative arrangements for a series of games with the Oneonta High school nine, which is now organizing, and it is possible that other teams may be got together within the next few weeks so that by the time the season is opened it is not improbable that there will be a sort of city league formed.

Baseball "chatter" has now succeeded basket-ball talk at the High school and by the time the Easter recess is over, the team will be taking definite form. Paul Russell, who has had a successful season on the basket-ball court this season, is limbering up his pitching arm and says it feels "fine." Other baseball "addicts" are getting into shape and within a few weeks it is certain that O. H. S. will have a "live" team on the diamond.

Which Club Will Win?

Which home economics club will win the membership banner shown at the annual meeting at Oneonta in December? Just at present it would be difficult to foretell. Two clubs, Westville and West Edmeston, have already gone over the top. Although sickness and bad roads offer an almost insurmountable barrier to the progress of the membership campaign, clubs are sending in their membership returns and striving to reach their quota as shown by the following figures:

Clubs	1920 membership	Present
Westville	23	27
West Edmeston	25	26
Unadilla Forks	35	34
New Lisbon	20	19

Arrested on Petty Larceny Charge.

On a warrant charging petty larceny, issued by Attorney Lynn Hathaway, Harry Beams was arrested Saturday evening on Main street by Patrolman Brownell. Beams will appear in city court tomorrow morning to face the charge and was released from custody after he had furnished $200 bail.

According to the police, Beams, whose home is in Johnson City, but who has been employed in this city, has in his possession a horn belonging to Company G band. The man had been playing in the band for several weeks but at the last few rehearsals had failed to appear, and when asked to return the instrument in his possession, it is said he refused.

Fighting Hunger

Hunger is never more than a few days away from the American people.

The coal strike showed us what a narrow margin the country goes on, even in a non-perishable necessity which can be stored.

Swift & Company is engaged in the business of fighting hunger.

From coast to coast, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, the lines of defense are drawn—packing plants at strategic points; branch houses in four hundred towns and cities; hundreds of car routes; thousands of refrigerator cars; tens of thousands of loyal men and women expert in their work.

Day by day, hour by hour ceaselessly, this fight, your fight, goes on. Yet so smoothly, surely and victoriously that you, unaware how close hunger always is, are as certain each night of tomorrow's meat as you are of tomorrow's sun.

And so economically is this done that the cost to you for this service is less than three cents a pound of meat sold. The profits shared in by more than 30,000 shareholders whose money makes the victory possible is only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products.

If hunger did not make it necessary for us to fight this fight in the best possible way for all concerned, the competition of hundreds of other packers, large and small, would compel us.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I want to let you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was taken with a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not lie down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it, for it cured me after I had given up all hopes of getting better. You can publish this and I will tell any one who writes to me the good it has done me."—Mrs. MARGARET DANZ, 743 N. 25th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved many suffering women.

POOLS WERE ACTIVE IN WEEK'S TRADING

Unprecedented Order Suspending Trading in Stutz, However, Causes Marked Setback

New York, April 4.—Trading in the securities market last week was limited to four sessions because of the Easter holiday. Dealings were correspondingly light, a hesitant tone most often prevailing.

Pools provided almost the only activity and their operations received a temporary setback in consequence of the unprecedented order of the stock exchange authorities directing the indefinite suspension in trading in one of the prominent motor issues.

The money market continued tight for virtually all forms of accommodation. This condition was attributed largely to heavy withdrawal of funds for banks in anticipation of April interest and dividend disbursements.

Predictions recently current in speculative centers that money rates probably would relax in the coming week were not shared by banking authorities, most of whom favor a further strengthening of bank reserves. The firm attitude of the federal reserve board toward all but essential credits remains unchanged. Estimates regarding the extent of gold imports from England on the current movement underwent downward revision, although exchange on longs continued to move forward, demand bills selling at $2.97, the highest quotation since last December and almost 80 cents over the low record of February when the entire exchange market collapsed. The Paris rate was heavy and Italian remittances receded to a new level of depreciation. Entrance of the year into its second quarter was unaccompanied by any material change of investment conditions. The only important underwriting soon likely to be consummated is that of the Pennsylvania company which is expected to issue $50,000,000 of bonds or short term notes.

OFFERED DIRECT TO INVESTORS

Seven Percent Cumulative Stock of H. H. Franklin Manufacturing Co.

Elsewhere in this issue appears an advertisement of the H. H. Franklin Manufacturing company of Syracuse, makers of the Franklin automobiles, offering an additional $1,000,000 issue of its seven percent cumulative preferred stock at par. The company is to be commended for its action in offering this stock to the average investor through its own organization and selling force without being underwritten by brokers and without commissions. Many similar offerings are practically without the reach of the average man with a thousand or two dollars which he might desire to invest in a going and successful manufacturing concern.

This stock is non-assessable, is redeemable on 60 days notice at $110 and accrued dividends. Dividends are payable quarterly and the earnings of the company for the past year were seven times the dividend requirements for the entire preferred stock authorized. PROSPEROUS SPRING OUTLOOK.

Continued reports of prosperity are received from the interior districts, says the Weekly Financial Review, and as spring work has opened up in the agricultural regions of the west and southwest, it is seen that crop prospects are of an unusually favorable description for this season of the year. The principal sources of anxiety are found in scarcity of farm labor and in inadequate equipment of the railroads, the latter tending to prevent both satisfactory movement of supplies to the farms and adequate return movements of agricultural products to the consumer.

As for the labor shortage, that is a two-sided situation. Manufacturers all over the country have been urgently demanding a greater labor supply, complaining that they are unable to carry their productive power up to 100 per cent efficiency unless they can get such assistance. This great need of labor and the fact that it has taken form in abnormally high wages has powerfully tended to bring workers from the extractive industries to the factories and to indoor work in general. In one way this is another index of prosperity, the demand for goods both for local consumption and export being so great as to necessitate the full employment of capital of every description.

Reports from the steel, iron, automobile and textile trades show not only a fuller employment than at any time in recent months, but also a smaller degree of labor unrest and probably a lesser number of strikes than on any recent date, while the plants themselves are not only operating at as full a capacity as possible, but have booked orders far ahead, in many cases up to or beyond the calendar year.

These facts have become a familiar story within the recent past, but they have never stood out so prominently as they do today in the business condition reports of the producing regions. It is no wonder in these circumstances that industrial earnings have held their own remarkably well in spite of the heavy burden of taxation to which they have been subjected, and in spite also of the high prices of labor and materials with which they have had to contend.

CONFERENCE ON Y. M. C. A. DRIVE.

State Railroad Secretary Meets Executive Committee of Local Campaign.

R. B. Smith, state railroad secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, was in the city Friday to install at the Oneonta "Y" the Cochran system of bookkeeping, which is used in most associations throughout the country. He spent the night in the city and left Saturday afternoon for Albany.

Friday afternoon Mr. Smith conferred with the executive committee, which will have charge of the financial campaign to be launched by the Oneonta Y. M. C. A. commencing April 12. Mr. Smith has had wide experience in conducting campaigns and gave some useful suggestions to the local committee. A short time ago he helped the Gloversville Y. M. C. A. raise $50,000 and the last of this month he goes to Niagara Falls to take part in a $500,000 drive in that city.

It was decided at the conference Friday that noon-hour luncheons would be held every day during the local campaign, when the soliciting teams will report on the progress of the drive and receive instructions.

Thus far, prospects are very bright for the campaign in Oneonta, when will be conducted as part of a nationwide movement the week of April 12. Several prominent citizens have become interested in the drive, which has for its purpose the raising of approximately $7,500 to carry on the "Y" work in this city. D. & H. railroad officials will take an active part in the movement. General Manager Jackson having been appointed campaign director for the whole system.

Missionaries Active in Japan.

An interesting and entertaining illustrated lecture on "Japan," the "Sunrise Kingdom" was given last evening at the First Presbyterian church by Dr. Russell, with the use of over 50 colored lantern slides. From the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. The lecture dealt in an interesting manner with many and varied phases of life in Japan and showed the great work that Christian missionaries have done and are doing there.

Leaders for New World Campaign.

Chairmen and campaign directors who will be in charge of the New World Movement campaign for $16,000,000 from April 25 to May 2 have been appointed for the nine presbyteries of the New York Synod of the United Presbyterian church. For the Delaware presbytery Rev. G. N. Knight of Walton is chairman and Robert Hall of Oneonta is director.

THE STORY OF LEONARD WOOD.

Adequate and Authoritative Biography of Man Prominent in Public Life.

This story of Leonard Wood, before the American public an adequate and authoritative biography of a man who has come to occupy a prominent position in our national life. Leonard Wood's chief characteristics as a whole-souled devotion to ideals of Americanism, typified by his democratic energy, resourcefulness and constructive effort.

The story of his life is told here by an able biographer who skillfully unfolds the richness of General Wood's record, beginning with his colonial ancestors and his boyhood on Cape Cod, and following his remarkable years of service in the United States army, of the German campaign, his gallantry at San Juan as Colonel of the Rough Riders, his friendship with Theodore Roosevelt, his great achievements as military governor of Cuba, when his skill as physician wiped out yellow fever, as governor of the Moro Province in the Philippines and his career as military administrator.

It is a story of remarkable accomplishment, tireless in its effort, broad in its vision and soundly American to the last detail. For its range of experience and administrative success, Leonard Wood's record has hardly a parallel in American life today.

Ernie Fisher Wood, the author, is the son of Dr. William E. Wood of New York city and a Yale graduate in the class of 1910. When the war broke out he was at the Ecole des Beaux Arts and was called to the American embassy as a civil attaché. He was one of the founders and an officer of the American ambulance in France, and saw service in the British army, afterwards being transferred to the A. E. F. as major in infantry. He was discharged as Lieutenant Colonel, twice wounded and with two decorations. He was first national secretary of the American region. His books are: "The Notebook of an Attaché," "The Writing on the Wall," and "The Notebook of an Intelligence Officer."

The price is $2.00 and the book will be on sale at the bookstores.

WANTS TWO PLATOON SYSTEM.

Fire Chief Choate Visits Old Associates at Binghamton.

The Binghamton Morning Sun of Friday says:

"Charles E. Choate, chief of the Oneonta fire department, accompanied by Fireman C. J. Holmes, were in the city yesterday, and while here visited the central fire station and called upon Chief Alfred H. Lyon and other firemen.

"Chief Choate is a former resident of Binghamton and served for many years in the old volunteer fire department, being a member of Protection Hose company, No. 3, located at State and Chenango streets. Chief Choate's executive capacity and his ability as a fire fighter were recognized by the Oneonta city officials a few years ago, when he was appointed chief, which position he has held continuously since that time. Chief Choate was favorably impressed with the fire fighting equipment in the Binghamton bureau, but the feature that appealed to him most was the two-platoon plan which he hopes some day to see installed in his home city."

Motor Trucks for Otsego.

Prospects for active work this season on the county aid system of roads provided for by the board of supervisors during the 1919 session, a very bright. Three bills now before the legislature which will provide more funds and also provide a plan for the purchase of tools, implements and machinery which will greatly expedite the work are receiving favorable consideration. While it is too early to predict the fate of these bills, there has been no evidence of serious opposition to them. The manager of the Improvement association has worked with our representatives for their passage.

County Superintendent of Highways V. L. Hoke, in conference with highway department officials at Albany recently, has secured an allotment of government war trucks to be used in the construction of our county roads. Two of the six machines in this allotment are new Pierce-Arrow trucks and the other four are heavy aviation trucks.

It is understood that a special session of the board of supervisors will be called at an early date, and that among the matters to be taken up will be the distribution of these trucks among the several townships.

CITY JUDGE HUNTINGTON WEDS.

MISS ETHEL A. HUNT HIS BRIDE IN SIMPLE CEREMONY.

Highly - Respected and Progressive Young Oneonta Attorney Married Saturday Afternoon—Spending Honey-moon in New York and Vicinity.

Clark C. Huntington, a life-long resident of Oneonta and one of its best known and highly respected young men, was married last Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Huntington, 24 State street, to Miss Ethel A. Hunt. In the presence of a small company of near relatives of the young couple, the wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. C. S. Hendler, pastor of the Main Street Baptist church, in a simple and unostentatious manner, with the Episcopal service being used. The couple were attended by Lowell Huntington, only brother of the groom, as best man, and Mrs. Lyman Steed, of Philadelphia, a close friend of the bride as maid of honor.

The bride wore a traveling suit of green broadcloth and carried a bouquet of "sun rise" roses. Her maid of honor was becomingly gowned in blue crepe-de-chine and carried pink roses.

Following the ceremony and felicitations, a delicious wedding luncheon was served the party. In honor of the occasion the house was prettily decorated with spring flowers, daffodils predominating. Mr. and Mrs. Huntington left on the afternoon train for New York and will spend a week or ten days in the metropolis and vicinity. Upon their return, they will reside at 46 East street until they are able to find a suitable home of their own.

Probably no young man in Oneonta is more generally beloved than is Mr. Huntington. He is the elder son of Sargent and Mrs. Shirley L. Huntington and was born and has ever since made his home in Oneonta. His father has for many years held a high place in county legal circles and was not surprising when his son decided to embark in the realm of law. Frank (we just can't get used to calling him "Judge") got his education in the Oneonta schools and in June, 1909, was graduated from the State Normal school. The next fall he entered Wesleyan university, at Middletown, Conn., and completed his course there with high honors, being graduated in June, 1912. With this sound classical education behind him, he "topped off" with a year's course in practical business at the Albany Business college.

Returning to Oneonta in 1914, Mr. Huntington entered the law offices of Owen C. Becker and there secured his first training as an attorney. He was admitted to the bar in 1917. In 1918, however, he relinquished his professional studies and, heeding his country's urgent need, joined the colors, serving for nearly a year at Fort Niagara and Camp Mills, Long Island. Most of this time he was at Camp Mills, where he served as aide to Lieutenant Colonel Arthur W. Cutler of this city, who then was in charge of the big army hospital at that camp. While at the camp, Mr. Huntington was promoted to a hospital sergeant and upon his discharge received his official commission as a sergeant.

Mr. Huntington returned to Oneonta in the early months of 1919 and again was at his desk. As the fall elections drew near, the Republicans of the city began to cast about for candidates and selected at about the first move Mr. Huntington to run for the important office of city judge. The details of Mr. Huntington's victory, despite the fact that he was running against a more experienced man, need not be recounted, as they are fresh in the public mind. He assumed his office on Jan. 1 last and in the short space of time intervening has demonstrated his ability to capably fill that post.

Mr. Huntington's future indeed seems to be a bright one, but in the estimation of his friends, nothing can be too good for him, for he is a young man of the right type and of the kind that is bound to succeed. In addition to his legal duties, which include being official attorney for the local chapter of the American Red Cross, Mr. Huntington has taken a keen interest in the welfare of the boys and girls of the city and was scout commissioner of the local Boy Scout organization until manifold duties forced him to relinquish the post.

Judge Huntington's bride has been a resident of Oneonta for several years past, having lived with her grandmother, Mrs. M. C. Brooks, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Huntington. (Mrs. Huntington is the bride's aunt.) Her parents died while she was a young girl and she has since lived with the Huntingtons here and with another aunt elsewhere. She was graduated from the Oneonta Normal school several years ago and has since been a valued instructor in the School for Deaf at Northampton, Mass., and has spent her vacation periods in Oneonta. She is a young woman with a pleasing personality, and by all who know her is held in high regard. All Oneontans will join in wishing her the best things that life holds in store for them.

As a slight indication of the general esteem in which the couple are held was the large number of wedding gifts that were sent, including Liberty bonds, checks and silver.

With the exception of the maid of honor, the only out-of-town guest present at the wedding was Miss Meta Juergensen of Utica.

The farmer works

To make more money

To buy more land

To raise more corn

To feed more hogs

To make more money

To buy more land

To raise more corn

To feed more hogs

(repeat ad lib)

THIS is the farmer's merry-go-round.

The clever farmer who knows how to conduct his business, will borrow all the money he can at a low rate of interest in order to carry out this cycle.

The Federal Land bank is furnishing money to businesslike farmers who already have a bankable credit and it is said that a very large proportion of the loans so made are to buy more land to raise more corn to feed more hogs, etc.

And as such, there will be no complaint except that the farm tenant and hired man or the beginner has very little opportunity to borrow money from that source to buy land on the same basis.

Objections are made to one feature of this excellent law because the bonds are exempt from taxation. At this time of year, when farmers are figuring out the income tax which they are required to pay on the income received from their land and livestock, it is a good time to think about the complete exemption that is granted to wealthy owners of Federal Land Bank bonds and Joint Stock Land Bank bonds. The taxes that the rich men evade, by buying tax-exempt bonds of any kind, are simply added to the taxes paid by farmers and others whose incomes are not exempt.

The Federal Farm Loan Act was enacted to help the business of agriculture. Like all other laws, it might be improved. It is not fair that very wealthy men should be exempted from taxation when farmers, who are paying interest on the funds which they have furnished, are obliged to pay the property taxes and also income taxes.

It is only within the last three or four years that the policy of tax exemption has become a practical matter of great importance to every one. The enormous national debt which the war placed upon our nation must be paid, and tax exemption is furnishing a means of escape for the wealthy men with large annual income. Something must be done to make up the shortage in tax revenue. There are only two ways to escape it—either the rich men must be made to pay their share of the heavy tax burden or small property owners and land owners must have their taxes increased.

THREE ARBOR DAYS THIS YEAR.

But the Official One for Otsego Will Be Friday, April 23.

New York state covers so large an area and has such a variety of weather conditions that it supports three official Arbor days. The dates are not fixed by law, but the law provides that the commissioner of education shall designate them. This year the following dates have been fixed:

Friday, April 16, first district, including Long Island and the counties of Southeastern New York and also the counties of Putnam and Dutchess.

Friday, April 23, second district, including all of the state not included in the first or third districts. In this district Otsego is included.

Friday, April 30, third district.

Northern New York, including the counties of Warren, Hamilton, Herkimer, Lewis, Jefferson, St. Lawrence, Franklin, Clinton and Essex, and the Catskill region in the counties of Ulster, Delaware and Greene.

Notice of Annual Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that the adjourned meeting of the Otsego Automobile club will be held at the Municipal building on Monday evening, April 5, at 8 o'clock, for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may be brought before it. It is expected that the proposal to take steps looking to keeping the state roads in this section open during the winter months will come before the meeting.

"House That Jack Built" Instructive.

Truismen's hall was well filled last Saturday night with wives of D. & H. conductors, trainmen, engineers and firemen, when the motion picture "The House That Jack Built" was presented by J. E. Long, superintendent of safety on the D. & H. The picture was for the purpose of emphasizing "Safety First" and after witnessing it, one is impressed with the many helpful hints along this line that the film conveys. "The House That Jack Built" should have a wide showing.

Herrick Says:

The questions one is called upon to answer this spring are about the same as usual—with only a few new ones. Of course, we always get: "Where did you go?" "What luck?" "How many?" etc. The new ones this season are: "What receipt are you using?" "How is your last brew coming on?" "How many bottles?" "What night shall we come up?" etc. The general impression seems to be that this will be a good season for — Fash. Well, you don't need to be afraid to answer any questions about your new spring suit if you got it at Herrick's. You can say you had good luck, and that there are more where you got yours. advt 12

EASTER SPIRIT RULES

Unpleasant Weather Fails to Dampen Celebration of Spring's Awakening—Special Services in Churches of City.

Although the weather yesterday perhaps resembled Christmas more than it did Easter day, the unpleasantness failed to dampen the Easter spirit and in all churches throughout the city there were largely-attended services. Many's Easter bonnet was noticeable by its absence, and there was no afternoon "style promenade."

The Easter programs published in Saturday's Star were carried out practically in full at the several churches and Sunday schools, with recitations and songs especially for the Easter occasion. Among the programs not included in Saturday's list was that of the First Presbyterian church, where special exercises took place at the Sunday school service. At the regular morning worship, which was largely attended, Dr. Russell took as his Easter theme, "The Victorious Rider, the White Horse." The choir rendered appropriate selections.

Elaborate preparations for the occasion had been made at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church and were successfully carried out yesterday. The decorations were indeed beautiful, the altar being banked with a veritable garden of flowers, with a predominance of lilies. An augmented orchestra furnished music for the service and the voices of the chorus of sanctuary boys never sounded more beautiful.

Many Join United Presbyterian Church

At the services at the United Presbyterian church yesterday, 34 persons united with the society, 17 by profession of faith and 17 by letter from other churches. There were also nine adult baptisms and one infant baptism; and at the communion service there were more partakers than at any previous communion of the church.

Another matter of interest in connection with the Easter service was the presentation to the society of a new black walnut pulpit, matching the altar itself and its furnishings. The pulpit was given by Mrs. Robert Hall, in memory of her mother, the late Mrs. Isabelle Rockwell, who from early womanhood was a member of the United Presbyterian church, during most of her life at Garrettsville but later in Oneonta.

A Talk About Knockers.

Several cities of late have had some very impressive ceremonies consisting of the burning of immense wooden hammers. Oneonta has heretofore been very fortunate in not having many knockers. Of late a few have drifted in, probably from other cities. They will tell you that this or that property is no good or that it is priced too high, or too far out or is too low. In fact, in order to keep you in their class. Some few people spend their time knocking the successful man's efforts to win out in the game of life. WHERE ONEONTANS WILL VOTE

Election of City of Oneonta Should Bear in Mind Polling Places Designated—Democrats Vote Separately But Other Parties Flock Together.

The spring primary election in the city of Oneonta, which will be held at the designated polling places from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. tomorrow, will be for the election of state and district delegates and alternates to the various national conventions, of state committeemen, and of county committeemen from each election district. There are four parties in the state which cast votes enough at the last gubernatorial election to entitle them to have part in the election. These are the Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Socialist parties. In accordance with the state law, the Democratic party, which cast the greatest number of votes at such election, will have separate polling places in the city; but the Republican, Prohibition and Socialist parties will vote at one place in each ward. Outside of the city, all parties in the county will cast their ballots at the same places. The voting places in the city are as follows:

Democratic Polling Places.

LEAVING FOR CONFERENCE.

Annual Session of Wyoming Conference at Scranton on Wednesday.

Rev. Dr. Johns of the First Methodist church leaves Oneonta. It is expected, today, to attend the annual session of the Wyoming conference which opens at Elm Park church in Scranton, Pa., on Wednesday and closes on Monday next. District Superintendent Henry leaves Tuesday morning as do most of the vicinity pastors.

W. Irving Bolton represents the First church at the Laymen's conference to gather on Friday and he will depart on Thursday to attend. There are two candidates from the Oneonta district for election to the general conference in May. C. W. Burnside of Sidney and George Lovell of Schenectady. Both are good men and will doubtless receive the support of the laymen from this district.

The First church has, by unanimous vote, requested the return of Rev. Dr. Johns to that church and it is thought probable that he will return, the church also having increased its salary, making in the aggregate a substantial improvement in its request. While other churches of the conference would welcome him it is believed that he will accede to the wishes of his friends in Oneonta and of the First church.

Charles VanDeusen Locates Here.

Charles VanDeusen of New York, formerly a resident of Oneonta, has returned to this city and will locate here permanently. He has secured offices at 245 Main street, on the third floor, and will engage in the insurance and real estate business. Mr. VanDeusen is now residing with his father, J. B. VanDeusen, of 525 Main street. Further announcement will be made in a later issue of the Star.

ENCOUNTERS CYCLONE

Ferris D. Mackey of Meridale Has Narrow Escape While in Alabama.

Ferris D. Mackey of Meridale, son of Hon. D. H. Mackey of Grand Street, was in the city on Saturday on his way home from West Point, Alabama, to which place he had taken a shipment of 16 choice cows purchased in Delaware county by a wealthy resident of that place.

The shipment was made by express and in a large police horse car. On Sunday last, when hearing his destination the train to which the car was attached was on the fringe of a severe cyclone, which swept through that section and for a brief time it appeared that the entire train might be lifted from the rails and wrecked, so severe was the storm. Had the train been 50 feet ahead when the cyclone swept through, it could not have escaped, as everything in its course for a certain width was swept away. As it was, the wind was something terrific and Mr. Mackey was impressed at the time with the actions of the excited negroes, who were in large numbers on their knees praying the Lord to save them. Many lives were lost, the exact number he did not learn.

He reports one church, approximately 50 by 100 feet, was blown a hundred feet and ruined. Ferris was piled upon the track of the railroad and it took them over three hours to travel 17 miles. The wires were down and the train crew, in addition to removing the debris, had to move the train cautiously from block to block. Following the cyclone there was a veritable cloudburst, with five inches of rain falling within an hour and causing a flood in many sections. It was the worst storm Mr. Mackey ever experienced.

SOME WENT A-FISHING.

But Their Luck in General Was Mighty Poor Saturday.

Saturday being the opening day of the trout season, many anglers from Oneonta, though doubtful of the outcome, felt it incumbent upon them to go fishing. Before departing practically all of them expressed the belief that the water was too high, there was too much snow in it, that generally it was too roily, and that there wasn't much chance for a big catch. Nobody, returning, protested his earlier predictions as too pessimistic. No matter how attractive the lure, or how skillful the fisherman, the fish simply weren't biting, and the catches reported were uniformly small to medium. Tommy Brienzi reported a catch of five fair-sized trout from the streams of Lavenport. D. Jennings is credited with four and Frank Austin and Frank Sherman with two each from the Outpost valley. Other anglers caught a fish or two apiece from the little streams tributary to the Otsego, but the largest catch was six, by a resident of Hartwick.

Hope, however, springs eternal in the angler's breast. It is the general belief that there are plenty of fish in the streams visited and that with warmer weather and water conditions more favorable, there will be plenty of sport in every stream visited.

MARCH POLICE RECORD.

Total of 25 Arrests Made During Month; Other Work of Department.

March was an active month with the Oneonta police department, the record showing that during the 31 days 25 arrests were made, divided as follows:

Petty larceny, 9; illegal train riding, 4; grand larceny, 2; juvenile delinquency, 2; public intoxication, 2; bastardy, 1; disorderly conduct, 1; secreted fugitive from justice, 1; non-support, 1; assault, 1; vagrancy, 1. Of those arrested, four were women.

One piece of work by the local police which does not appear on the blotter but which was probably more important than any of the other cases, was the locating of Henry Brent, Troy negro, who was wanted in that city for shooting a companion in a fight which followed a card game. Brent was arrested by the Binghamton police at the request of the Oneonta authorities, who traced him to that city from here, where he had been spending a few days.

During the month, the doors of 12 business places were found unlocked by patrolmen.

CONVICTED OF NON-SUPPORT

Orben A. Loucks Directed by Judge Huntington to Pay Girl-Wife $10 a Week, or Else Be Sent to Jail.

Orben A. Loucks, who was arrested early last week on a charge of non-support preferred by his wife, was convicted in city court Thursday and sentenced to pay his wife $10 a week for one year. Loucks must provide a bond to guarantee that he will carry out the sentence, and if he fails to do this he will be confined in the Otsego county jail until he does.

The case consumed practically the entire day in court and was watched with interest by a room full of relatives and friends of the estranged couple. A number of witnesses were examined.

Attorney Henry D. McLaury was counsel for Loucks and endeavored to prove that when the couple were married, the girl had no intention of setting down and making a home for Loucks and that she had failed to carry out her marriage vows. It developed that the girl, who was labeled Phillips, had married Loucks when she was but 15 years old. Although admitting that a girl at this age would know little about housekeeping, Mr. McLaury charged that she had made no attempt to learn how to make a home, but on the contrary "had been chasing around with anybody she could pick up."

It seems that a few months after the pair were married, Loucks was drafted and later sent overseas. During this period, the attorney alleged, Mrs. Loucks went to live in a questionable house at Binghamton and apparently lost all interest in her husband. When Loucks returned from the service, Mr. McLaury said, he had offered to give his wife a home, but she had refused. The attorney defended his client's character, and said that Loucks was a hard-working and industrious man, who had made every effort to live happily with his wife.

Attorney Lee D. VanWoert, who represented Mrs. Loucks, denied the allegations of his client's infidelity and charged that Loucks (who was then 21 years old) when he married the girl (only 15) had no intention of staying by her, but was merely trying to keep from being drafted into the army. He submitted the fact that the marriage took place in July, 1917, when the first draft was under way, to prove his assertion. He denied that the girl "had been chasing around with anybody she could pick up" and painted a word picture of a girl who had been true to her vows and who had been woefully neglected by her husband.

Later, Chief of Police Horton was called to the stand and was questioned by Attorney McLaury, who sought to draw from him that the girl had been under the observation of the police for her alleged misconduct. The officer, however, denied this intimation and said that the first time the girl had been at the police station was when she came and told the pitiful story of her unhappy married life. When pressed further by the attorney, the chief asserted that any girl in Oneonta who was "very bad" was known by the police and that Mrs. Loucks had never been under suspicion as a "bad" girl.

The opposing attorneys then summed up their sides and Judge Huntington gave the verdict of "guilty" and directed that Loucks pay his wife $10 a week for her support. The verdict met general approval among disinterested observers who had been following the proceedings, and Judge Huntington is to be commended for his disposition of the case.

HOW TO RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water.

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhoea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause.

An Avicol tablet placed in the drinking water, will positively save your little chicks from all such diseases. Inside of 48 hours the sick ones will be as lively as chickens. Avicol keeps them healthy and makes them grow and develop.

Mrs. Vannie Thacker, R. F. D. 2, St. Paris, O., writes: "I had 20 chicks and they all died but 32. Then I commenced on Avicol and haven't lost any since. They have grown wonderfully."

It costs nothing to try Avicol. If you don't find that it prevents and promptly cures white diarrhoea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases of poultry, tell us and your money will be refunded by return mail. Avicol is sold by most druggists and poultry remedy dealers, or you can send 25c or 50c today for a package by mail postpaid. Burrill-Dugger Co., 693 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.
